IT'S MORPHIN TIME

Hey, Power Rangers fans! Jason here, and I'm going to let you in on a secret: the rest of the Power Rangers and I are totally excited about the first issue of our brand-new magazine! We've pulled out all the stops to make it truly awesome, and we hope that everyone who loves our show will love the magazine, too.

This issue is chock-full of great stuff to read and do. For starters, you can check out the wild monsters in Create a Creature. These monsters weren't created by Rita Repulsa, though—they were drawn by kids like you! And in Power Rangers Puzzle Pages, we've put together some tough puzzles to test your brainpower, plus some goofy jokes, too.

Also inside is a comic that tells the story of one of our latest adventures, when we took on one of Rita's most rotten creations! And in Prehistoric Profiles, you'll learn about the tyrannosaurus I get my powers from, as well as the other Power Rangers' animals.

As a bonus, there's also an exciting introduction to the world of the V.R. Troopers! And there's even more waiting for you inside.

See you next time!

JASON

MORPHIN MAIL

Listen up, Power Rangers fans! We want you to tell us what you think of our magazine. Do you love it or hate it? Is there anything you want to see in our pages? Which Power Ranger is your favorite, and which villain do you think is really rotten? Drop us a line and let us know!

Since this is our very first issue, we don't have any letters from our readers yet. But the Power Rangers recently received some mail at the Angel Grove Youth Center from a few of their friends and foes. They said it would be all right to print them here.

Dear Power Rangers,

I congratulate you on doing your job so well. You have carried out my mission perfectly. So far, none of the strange creatures who have attacked Earth have defeated you. But beware! The forces of evil may strike at any time. You, my Power Rangers, must be ready for action day and night!

Zordon
The Command Center

Dear Power Rangers,

My boss, Rita Repulsa, has ordered me to concoct a new creature to attack you. Thinking up new creatures isn't easy, but I'm sure that my Monster-Matic and I will come up with something to beat you—I hope! If not, Rita says she'll kick me all the way to the dark side of the moon!

Finster
The Moon

Dear Power Rangers,

You are the greatest, most amazing team of creature fighters I've ever seen. I've followed your adventures ever since you first appeared here in Angel Grove. There's just one thing I'd like to know: who are you under those helmets? Come on, you can tell me!

Ernie

Sometimes it seems like there's no end to the parade of weird monsters Rita Repulsa and her lackeys send to fight the Power Rangers. Here's your chance to make up a colorful creature of your own, like the ones you see on this page. Get out paper, markers, and crayons, and see what kind of monster you can create. Be sure to write down your monster's powers!

New Homes For Ancient Creatures

The American Museum of Natural History

Prehistoric creatures like the saber-toothed tiger and the triceratops vanished millions of years ago. But you can still visit them at museums and parks around the country, where their awesome skeletons are on display.

The American Museum of Natural History in New York City recently opened a new wing filled with skeletons of modern and ancient mammals, including a ferocious-looking saber-toothed tiger and a massive mastodon. There are over 250 of these beasts in the museum's collection, making it the largest ancient mammal museum in the country.

At the Paleo School in Dinosaur County in Choteau, Montana, you can see dinosaur fossils in the ground and learn how paleontologists dig them up.

Dinosaur Valley State Park in Glenrose, Texas, features real dino tracks, fossilized footprints and life-size dinosaur models. If you're in Los Angeles, visit the Natural History Museum to see rebuilt dinosaurs and the La Brea Tar Pits to view fossils still stuck in ancient mud.

You can also check out the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., and the Dinosaur Hall at the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh. Both have large dinosaur models and lots of other bones.

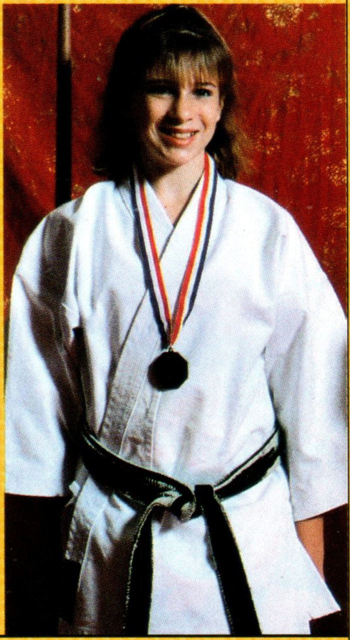
KICKIN' KARATE



Every year, 250 kids ages six and up come from around the country to show their karate skills at the USA Karate Federation's Junior Championship. Some of these karate kids are beginners, while others are experienced black belts. And like the Power Rangers, they all get a kick out of karate.

During the championship, the kids compete in two different kinds of matches. In the first, called kumite, two competitors fight against each other with bare hands for two minutes. The opponents score points for striking each other. During the second competition, kata, the kids go through a series of karate moves. "Kata is like a formal dance," says George Anderson, president of the USA Karate Federation.

Winners of the Federation Championships get a medal, and everyone who participates gets a cool certificate. Thirteen-year-old Adrienne Blann looks forward to the championship every year. "It's really exciting!" says Adrienne, who has won four medals so far.

PREHISTORIC PROFILES

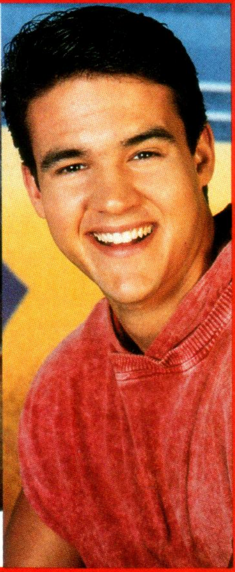
To help the Power Rangers in their fight against evil, Zordon gathered the spirits of five mighty creatures that ruled the world millions of years ago. Here's what these ancient animals were really like!

by Scott Sonneborn

Name: Tyrannosaur

Size: The tyrannosaur was the largest walking meat-eater in its day. Its head alone was more than four feet long! Standing up, the tyrannosaur was 20 feet tall, which is taller than a giraffe.

Special ability: The tyrannosaur was a fierce fighter and lived alone. Usually, you wouldn't find two tyrannosaurs within 100 miles of each other!



Name: Saber-toothed tiger

Size: The saber-toothed tiger could grow to more than seven feet long from head to tail.

Special ability: The saber-toothed tiger could open its mouth very wide to take extra-large bites with its two huge front teeth—each one the size of a large knife! These teeth looked like a curved sword called a saber, which is how the saber-toothed tiger got its name.

Name: Mastodon

Size: The mastodon was about the size of an elephant, but it weighed even more!

Special ability: In battle, the mastodon used its two huge tusks, each one eight feet long!

Name: Triceratops

Size: The triceratops was 25 feet long and weighed as much as five cars!

Special ability: The triceratops's massive mouth could bite through a tree trunk! It looked mean, but the triceratops was actually a peaceful dinosaur that preferred eating plants.

Name: Pterodactyl

Size: The pterodactyl was about the size of a sparrow.

Special ability: It could fly! This ancient reptile did not flap its wings like modern birds, though. Instead, it spread its wings and glided through the air. The pterodactyl lived until 70 million years ago, when the mighty pteranodon, a huge flying dinosaur more than 50 feet long, took over the skies.

SPOTLIGHT ON...

THE GREEN RANGER!

REAL NAME: Tommy

PERSONALITY: As the new kid at Angel Grove High School, Tommy is a bit shy, but has become good friends with the Power Rangers. He and Jason enjoy working out together at the Youth Center and practicing the martial arts. Tommy also has a romantic interest in Kimberly, who feels the same way about him.

ORIGIN: Tommy was given his Power Morpher by Rita Repulsa, who hypnotized him and ordered him to wreck the Command Center and banish Zordon! Rita then gave him the Sword of Darkness, which made him her slave, and sent Tommy to destroy the Power Rangers. The Green Ranger's Dragon Zord was more than a match for Megazord, and it looked like the Power Rangers were in real trouble. But by destroying the Sword of Darkness, the Power Rangers broke Rita's spell and won Tommy as an ally. Rita then took back Tommy's Power Morpher and his powers. Tommy remains a true friend to the Rangers, even though he is no longer the Green Ranger.

SABAN'S VR TROOPERS

WELCOME TO THE WORLD OF VIRTUAL REALITY!

It's a world created inside a computer. A world that looks and feels real, but is very different from our own, full of strange robotic creatures led by an evil tyrant known as Grimlord.

Ryan Steel, Kaitlin Star, and J.B. Reese are three good friends who learn a terrible secret: the mechanical monsters from Virtual Reality can travel into our world! What they don't know is that Grimlord is already on Earth, disguised as powerful businessman Karl Ziktor. Grimlord plans to bring his robotic army out of the Virtual World to conquer our own.

With the help of Professor Hart, a computerized scientist, the three young friends become the valiant V.R. Troopers, determined to stop Grimlord's evil plan. The V.R. Troopers can move between our world and the world of Virtual Reality. They must battle Grimlord in both realities to save Earth!

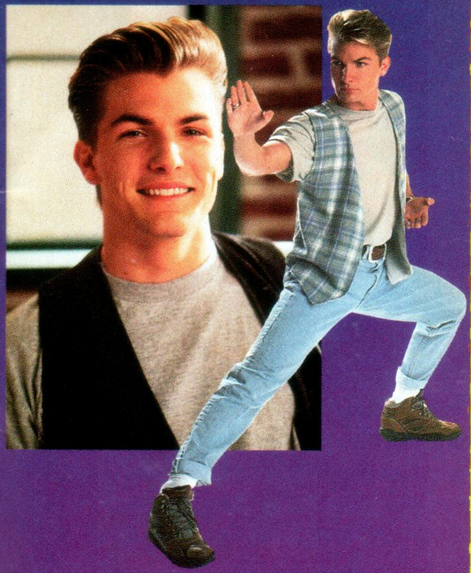
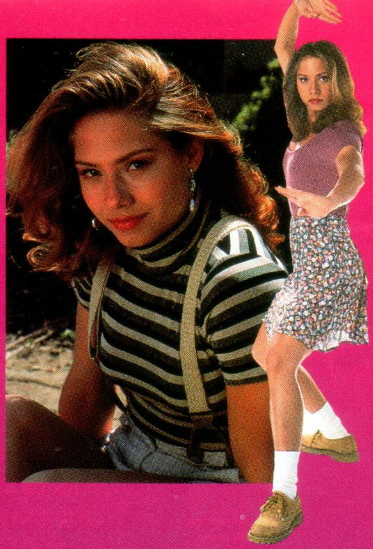
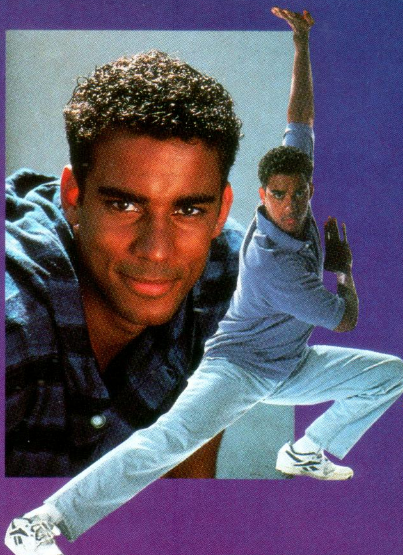
MEET.THE.V.R.TROOPERS!



Ryan Steel is an 18-year-old martial arts instructor and the leader of the V.R. Troopers. Ryan is determined to defeat Grimlord and to discover the secret of his long-lost father's disappearance. Ryan's father, a brilliant scientist, invented the machine that allows the V.R. Troopers to travel from our world into the world of Virtual Reality and back.



Kaitlin Star, a headstrong photojournalist and an expert in the martial arts, discovered that Karl Ziktor's business was corrupt and unfair. When she learned of the evil tyrant Grimlord, she became a V.R. Trooper in order to fight him.



J.B. Reese is a computer whiz, martial artist, and Ryan Steel's best friend. When Ryan said he would defend Earth as a V.R. Trooper, he knew that he could count on his friend J.B. to help him.

THEIR FRIENDS AND ENEMIES!

Jeb, Ryan's dog and constant companion, used to be like other dogs. But an accident in Professor Hart's lab changed that. Now, Jeb can speak! In his own funny way, he tries to help the V.R. Troopers in their mission.

Tao Chong is Ryan's lifelong friend and karate master. He helps the V.R. Troopers hone their martial arts skills to fight Grimlord and his robotic horde.

Grimlord, the cruel master of Virtual Reality, was not satisfied ruling only one world. After discovering the secret of traveling from the Virtual World to our reality, Grimlord came to Earth, changed his appearance, and built a business empire. Here, Grimlord is known as Karl Ziktor, and he uses his wealth to gain more and more power. But Grimlord has a second plan: to use his evil army of robotic Skugs to conquer our world!

The Skugs are Grimlord's robotic henchmen who live in the world of Virtual Reality. The Skugs each have a different power or weapon, but they are all dangerous foes of the V.R. Troopers!
